

Pipol ERP Business Intelligence Assessment

In response to market demand, Pipol is pleased to offer a new ERP Business Intelligence Assessment service.

It helps businesses like yours define a high-level BI strategy, and develop the right roadmap for success.

Comprehensive BI strategy and roadmap

A detailed BI strategy provides a solid foundation for moving the organization forward—by maximizing data-driven potential. And a carefully crafted action plan enables you to intelligently prioritize BI initiatives over time. Together, they'll power success.

How does the ERP Business Intelligence Assessment work?

We'll work closely with you to align with your company's objectives. Then, we'll move forward with the BI Assessment: covering everything from the current state of your organization's landscape, set-up, and architecture, to your BI ambitions of the future. The Assessment gives you both a solid analysis of your data, and a plan for how to move forward to reach your BI goals—deliverables that are just what you need to succeed.
