

Pipol ERP Project Recovery Assessment

Is your company facing challenges with international Dynamics implementation? If so, you're not alone.

Responding to the need for help with recovery cases, Pipol is offering a newly designed ERP Project Recovery Assessment service to help you navigate the complexities, and leverage the opportunities. It's based on our wealth of experience successfully managing ERP recovery cases.

An easy-to-execute ERP Project Recovery Assessment

Our Assessment begins by understanding your project's scope, challenges, and objectives. Then, we'll host a customized workshop where we focus on your company's specific issues—strategically aligning recovery options with your project's stakeholders.

Some of the topics we'll cover include processes and requirements, localization and deployment approaches, governance, and a discussion of project recovery options.

The Pipol ERP Project Recovery Assessment will support you

At the conclusion of the Assessment process, we'll provide you with a Project Recovery Report containing our detailed recommendations. You'll also receive an actionable plan for your international Dynamics implementation; a clear road map.

And should you require further support in executing the outlined plan, we're ready to help. Because we know you can't afford to fail, it's everything you'll need to meet with success.
